Information on the valuation procedure pursuant to Sections 26-31 and 34 Capital Investment Accounting and Valuation Ordinance (KARBV)

All assets that are admitted to trading on a stock exchange or another organised market, or which are included in such a market, are valued using the last available price that can be classified as tradable on the basis of clearly defined criteria and that ensures a reliable valuation (Sections 27, 34 Capital Investment Accounting and Valuation Ordinance [KARBV]).

The prices used are stock exchange prices, quotations on recognised information systems or prices from issuer-independent valuation systems (Sections 28, 34 Capital Investment Accounting and Valuation Ordinance [KARBV]).

Units in investment funds are valued at the latest available redemption price published by the respective capital management company.

Bank balances are valued at nominal value plus interest accrued, callable fixed-term deposits at market value and liabilities at the amount repayable (Sections 29, 34 Capital Investment Accounting and Valuation Ordinance [KARBV]).

Valuation is always performed at the last traded price in accordance with the specified valuation date (previous day or same day).

Assets that are not admitted to trading on an organised market or for which no tradable prices can be determined are valued using recognised valuation models based on observable market data. If valuation on the basis of models is not possible, valuation is performed using other suitable pricing methods (Sections 28, 34 Capital Investment Accounting and Valuation Ordinance [KARBV]). Another suitable method may be the use of a price determined by a third party and is subject to a plausibility check by the capital management company.
